PLAYERS WILL GIVE ORIGINAL PRODUCTION

"Christmas Through the Ages," a group of settings that have been arranged by Miss D. Branton, advisor of Wartburg's Dramatic club, will be presented by the Wartburg Players in the Wartburg gymnasium on Tuesday evening, December 18, at eight o'clock.

The different scenes show the customs of Christmas in the major foreign countries and in America, and in order to help portray the traditions of the various countries, Christmas carols will be sung during the scenes.

The various scenes and the characters include: First Christmas—Shepherd Scene—H. Schmidt, C. Ide, and W. Dannemann; Roman Scene—C. Ide, J. Sandrock, M. Lundstrom, and A. Peters; Russian Scene—A. Mathias; Russian Scene—H. Richmond, S. Buh, H. Lutz, and H. Bolling; German Scene—Bachmann; English Scene—C. Ide, V. Schmidt, D. Diers, A. Vorhennann, M. Lundstrom, M. W. Schmidt, and C. Ide; French Scene—E. Nolting, D. Louts, A. Strampke, B. Becker, L. Huxval, J. Marquardt, A. Bachmann, and C. Ide; Spanish Scene—R. Mueller, and J. Sandrock; Chinese Scene—Stemle; Indian Scene—Stemle; Egyptian Scene—Stemle; and the final scene will be a Community Christmas Eve with a community in Clifford Driskien will be the narrator.

There will be no admission for this program, and the public is invited.

La Bonna Hartvig, president of the Wartburg Players, reports that rehearsals are progressing nicely and that the Players expect to present a program that will lend some beauty to the holiday season.

Pi Sig Party

On Sunday, December 16, at 3:00 o'clock in the beautifully decorated Reception Room of the Wartburg Hall, Santa will make his appearance with gifts for the young people. The gifts from the Wartburg Children's Home in Waverly, an ideal Christmas program under chairmanship of Gertrude Brokering, Lorena Dankenbring, Paul Schmidt, and Charlie Brown, and consisting of movies and refreshments will follow Santa's entrance. The children will gather around the gaily lighted Christmas tree for candy.

The Christmas party is an annual custom observed by the members of Pi Sigma, and those who choose these youngsters for their "little brothers" or their "little sisters." Just as freshmen girls become the "little sisters" of upperclassmen, so the Pi Sigma adopted their children almost as their own.

Two special music numbers will be sung. The trio, consisting of Lou Landbeck, Anna Peters, and Betty Blum, will sing "O Holy Night" by Adam. The other selection will be a solo by Lois Landbeck, "A Star Was His Candle," written by Ted Rizzo.

Neumann to Coo

Dean G. J. Neumann went to Cedar Rapids Friday, Dec. 14, to represent Wartburg College at the inauguration ceremony of Coe College's new president.

The morning program began with the academic procession, followed by the inauguration ceremony.

BROADCASTS

Choir broadcasts will continue through Christmas vacation by the use of electrical transmission. The programs will continue to be presented into the spring of next year. A contract for the broadcasts was signed to extend the broadcasts into April.

POLGAR - GUEST AND ENTERTAINER

Frans J. Polgar is serving two functions in the above scenes. In the upper two, as guest of honor at the Pi Sigma Tea, he is shown with Dr. Swensen in the midst of well-wishers and admirers. In the reception room of Wartburg Hall, below he exhibits his mastery over the minds and wills of several subjects during his hypnotism demonstration. In the left picture he watches as Al Pinkie vainly tries to resist Clifford Driskien from his hypnotic trance. At right he creates a state of rigidity in Russell Dillemluth and commands him to fall backward into his arms. Other subjects may be seen in the background.

Merry Christmas

Everyone is looking forward to December 20th when we will put away our books for a two-week Christmas vacation. All of us are anxious to go home, finish our Christmas shopping, help decorate the Christmas tree and then, the big dinner.

Most of the students who didn't get home for Thanksgiving are going home for Christmas. Arnold Witrock and Ernest Colard, Washington and Wilbert Deere, Texas, are going home. Bill Roeder is going to spend the holidays with Pete Hinkley, Eureka, South Dakota. We are sorry to hear that Ted Steublich, California, and Pearl Schmidt, Montana, won't be able to go home.

The Wartburg Choir made two records that will be played the two Tuesdays of Christmas night and New Year's night. This will give the choir members a chance to hear themselves over the air.

After the two-week vacation we will come back to our studies—refreshed and prepared to study harder.

A very Merry Christmas—students, faculty members and Trumpet readers.

CHI RHO AGAIN SPONSORING SERVICE

Annual Candlestick Service sponsored by Chi Rho, the pre-theological society, will be held Monday evening, at 7:30 in Convocation Hall. Visitors are invited.

Two special music numbers will be sung. The trio, consisting of Lou Landbeck, Anna Peters, and Betty Blum, will sing "O Holy Night" by Adam. The other selection will be a solo by Lois Landbeck, "A Star Was His Candle," written by Ted Rizzo.

Handicrafts Club Holds First Meeting

The Handicrafts Club, perhaps the newest organization on campus, held its first meeting approximately a month ago. The club is sponsored by the HEC club and meets every other Thursday night at seven o'clock. Its members are at present busily engaged in making Christmas gifts such as bracelets, belts, and ties. The class of officers will be under the supervision of Miss Clay, who also conducts night class in handicraft for adults. All interested students are urged to join the club if they wish.

Feistner May Be Home for Christmas

"I think I got for nothing better than to be well enough to go home for Christmas," said George Feistner, a Wartburg College sophomore, whose home is at Madison, South Dakota.

George has been confined in the Waverly Memorial Hospital since November nineteenth as the result of a ruptured appendix and peritonitis. Despite the seriousness of George's illness, he is slowly recovering, and unless further complications arise, he will leave the hospital next week and will be home for Christmas.

TO DRAW PLAN ON NEW ADDITION

"Court" Method Will Be Used.

The "topographical survey" of the proposed Lutheran Children's home addition to Waverly was completed last Thursday. Only a part of the addition will be opened for sale at any one time.

Surveying work was done by Wartburg students directed by Prof. A. A. Auer.

Rev. Alfred O. Rausch, 21 formerly from Reddy, and pastor at various Lutheran Service Centers, has accepted a parsonate at Palmer, Iowa.

Prof. Wilfred A. Mueller 44 is taking educational classes while stationed on Guam.

Girls' Dormitories Hold Yule Parties

The annual Christmas party was held in the reception room of the girls' dorm on Monday night, December 18. Dressed in pajamas and robes, Mrs. Lo Bohm and the girls began the party by singing carols around the Christmas tree. After the carol singing, the girls held the girls in several games, including the following of a chain through the dormitory until it led back to the reception room where lunch was served. After the games, the girls presented Mrs. Lo Bohm with a gift. More carols were sung in closing.

Another Christmas party was held on Thursday, December 18, in Annex H. Miss Givens and eight girls were present. The girls sang carols, exchanged gifts, and visited in the living room. The party ended with the serving of refreshments.

The Alpha Mu will hold its Christmas party on Wednesday night, December 19, after the all-college party.

Campus Trim

Christmas has come to our campus through programs and parties held especially through the student body.

Walk the past the front of the A. B. building one sees the beautifully illuminated, glass-stained windows in Convocation Hall, then looking straight ahead to Old Main, one sees the lighted outline of a huge tree tipped by the star on the roof of the building.

In the center of the campus, in the fountain, stands another lighted tree, sending out its rays of light to the surrounding area where similar trees and decorations make the holiday season more real for all of us.

WARTBURG'S FACULTY-STUDENT COUNCIL

This picture, another in the Trumpet's current series featuring Wartburg's guiding groups and councils, shows the Wartburg Faculty-Student Council in session. This group co-ordinates the work of the Student Service Family. Here points of view of each group are presented

Hot Coals From --The Ash Can--

Bill, Pete and Bob look sort of bow-legged in these genuine western Levis. (Have you noticed the little red "stop light" to the left of the right hand, back pocket and the "license plate" above it?)

Audra Peters has been sporting around a dandy plaid skirt. (Pin-up style.)

Maxine Lundstrom has been wearing a beautiful milk fur

(could be rabbit fur for all I know about furs) coat to keep warm. (Nice and cozy, wasn't it, Pete?)

Bob Mundt likes to wear blue farm overalls. (He's a hard working man, if you know what I mean.)

Nurse Hughes' spotless, white uniform has attracted much attention around the campus. (Could that be the reason for so many boys getting sick?)

Where did you get those "lace-up" Navy trousers Ed Schmidt? (They pack you pretty solid around the middle, eh?)

(Leave any contributions to this column in the Trumpet office.)

We thought Fink only snored at night in North Hall, but apparently he also does a good job in German class.

Only seven more shop lifting days until Christmas.

We wonder who's next in line for an engagement (Connie and Irma?)

Flay Penn Quakers 60-41 In Second Conference Win OLMSTEAD HITS TWENTY-FOUR

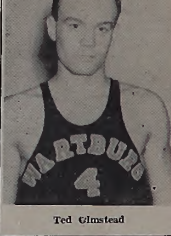

The Knights racked up their third consecutive win of the season by whipping the Penn Quakers Friday night 60-41. It gives the Knights a record of two wins against no losses in the Iowa Conference standings. The Quakers were somewhat handicapped due to the fact that Jack Oxenreider, star scorer, had to play with a bad knee and was slowed up the entire night, but even at that he tallied 17 points with some beautiful long shots.

The game started out rather slowly with Penn drawing the first blood on a free throw, but the Knights soon countered and never let the lead rest of the game. Langholz started off the Knights scoring with a couple of nice buckets early in the game. The Quakers were held within a field goal for about 8 minutes, and the Quakers had to rely on free throws to make their points. About mid-way in the first half the Knights set up a 20-0 lead, but they slowed up a little, and "Ox" poured in a couple long ones to slow the game to 27-15 at half-time.

After the intermission the Knights rallied to get on the winning side, and the Penn boys pulled up to a more 26-20 deficit. The Knights began to "roast" the Quakers, and Coach "Roose" began to substitute freely. The Knights pushed the score to 36-31 with about 5 minutes remaining and then just coasted the rest of the way.

Ted Olmstead for the Knights proved his ability by pumping in 11 field goals and two free throws to lead the scoring with 24 points. He was the only player to score with 15 points and Langholz with 10. Ed Drotte displayed some beautiful passing and made 7 of them, rather at times during the evening.

Of course, for Penn, Oxenreider was outscoring with his 17 point total. One of the reasons was the fact that Newlin, Penn forward, shot a total of 14 free throws and made 7 of them, rather an oddity in that no player was forced out due to 5 fouls.

In a curtain-raiser the Schuket team of Waterloo test the "B" squad 35-18. The boys started out good and managed to hold their own to trail only 14-13 at the half, but the second half was a disaster one as they scored only 5 points in it.

For Schuket, Gaddis with 14 and Wumkes with 11 led the scoring. For the "B" squad Koch led the scoring with 7 points all of which he got in the first half.

Knights Best Peacocks 49-44 In Cage Opener

Wartburg Knights gloriously managed to victory in their first Iowa Conference game on December 3 by whipping Upper Iowa 49-44. The game was a traditional grueling battle between the two teams. The game was unusually long with a total of 41 possessions being called, 22 against the Peacocks, and half of the starting 10 men failed to finish the game due to the five foul limit.

The game was rather slow at the outset, and the Peacocks jumped into an early 6-4 lead, but the Knights countered, and the Upper Iowa boys had to settle for an 8-5 margin at the end of the first quarter. Both teams showed difficulty in hitting the hoop the first period.

The lead changed several times, but the Knights finally got a 15-10 edge mid-way in the second quarter. In the closing minutes of the first half, Upper Iowa cut the margin to 20-18 before the half ended. The Wartburg lead was largely due to the accuracy at the free throw line as they registered on 10 out of 13 chances.

After the intermission the Knight cause was bettered by two quick baskets by Langholz and Olmstead. With Olmstead putting 11 field goals and Lechner logging two, the Knights built up a 27-20 margin at the third quarter.

The Peacocks tried hard to close the gap as Webb and Biermann pumped home a couple of fielders in the early minutes of the last quarter. The margin was at one narrow to 37-33, but the Knights later the Knights had pulled ahead 47-37. Lechner added three goals and Olmstead two to make possible the widening of the margin. After this the Knights took it rather easy and coasted to win 49-44.

Both teams were hard hit by the five foul rule with the Upper Iowa boys losing M. Harms and Johnson just before the half. These two were the main point-reducers in their team before being ejected. In the third quarter with only a minute left in the period, Paul Koch, Wartburg guard was forced out, only to be followed to the sidelines in the middle of the fourth period by Bill Hughes. Tuttle of the Peacocks went out about the same time.

Ted Olmstead, Knights ace, led the evening's scoring with 23 points. He turned in a swell all-around game and was also supported in the scoring department by Langholz, hitting for 13 and Lechner tallying 10.

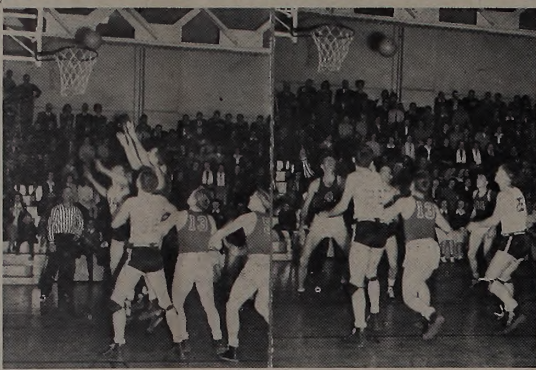

The Peacocks were paced by big Randy Webb, center, a returned war veteran, who managed to score 14 points for his team. In a preliminary game an inter-squad game was played which was won by the Whites 39-23. Keith Koch scored 11 points for the winners while Riedel scored for the losing Gulls.

VICTORIOUS KNIGHTS IN ACTION AGAINST PEACOCKS

Above are two under-the-basket scenes well illustrating the forlaid action which characterized the Upper Iowa victory. In the left section Ted Olmstead (24), an Upper Iowa man, and Den Fallon are in the air after a rebound while two other Peacocks and Lechner (22) are poised over the ball. In the right section all eyes are on the ball as Lechner, Fallon, On the far side, and Langholz (25) together with three Peacocks, follow an attempted shot.

After watching the Knights in action tonight it reminds us of last year's team and the large scores they rolled up. With three years under their belts thus far the Knights face a tough road trip into Nebraska this next week. The boys will be out to do their best for "Roose" due to the fact that eastern Nebraska happens to be his old stomping grounds.

We certainly saw some fine passing and ball handling by the team at times tonight, but then again they lined into a spells where they lacked fire, and Penn would temporarily close the gap. With Ed Drotte back in the line-up and still there being the possibility of other veterans returning, the Knights should prove tough opposition for any comers this season. By hitting the 60-mark once more, the Knights managed to raise their game average to 52.3 in their 3 games. Ted is really doing O. K. for himself again as he has averaged 21 points per game this far. The front line has done practically all the scoring this year, and "Roose" is still looking for more scoring power in the back court to balance out the team. One outstanding feature of the Elmhurst game was the fine play of Dick Kamper, reserve center who got himself 5 quick buckets in the 4th quarter.

The boys really deserve lots of credit in the rebound department, because, despite their lack of size, they still manage to grab off a goodly number of the backboard shots.

The next home game will be with Simpson on Jan. 10. That should be quite a battle as the Redmen still have about the same team that knocked off the Knights twice last season. The boys are out to get revenge for that 26-0 licking they got in their closing football game, too.

I think everybody is well pleased with the showing of the Knights so far this year. Let's continue to back them all the way whether they win or lose. The crowds certainly have been good compared to the past few years, and it seems good not to look at empty rows on the other side for a change.

Here's wishing you a MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY NEW YEAR.

TEAM DRUBS ELLSWORTH J.C. IN SECOND GAME

The Knights traveled to Iowa City on Tuesday night, December 11, to win their second game of the season by beating Ellsworth J. C. 60-35. The game was originally scheduled for last Saturday, but an outbreak of flu at Iowa Falls caused the postponement. It was a non-conference game. The team was still without the services of Ed Drotte, regular guard, who was still out with an ankle injury.

The Wartburg boys managed to pull ahead and then play a less deliberate game. They acquired a 38-18 lead at the half. After the intermission "Coach" Rosolius changed his lineup quite frequently using a total of 14 men in the game. One outstanding feature of the game was the play of Dick Kamper, reserve center, who won five fielders in the 4th quarter in quick succession.

Ted Olmstead again proved that he's got the old bucket eye this year as he picked up 19 points. Lechner was close behind with 14. Comparatively few fans were called with Olmstead having 3 which was the most for any Knight—only 24 were called in all. Evans, guard, proved to be the main gun for Ellsworth as he tallied 11 points for the losers.

WARTBURG GIRLS WALLOP DENVER IN OPENER

Paced by the scoring of munny Elaine Els, the Wartburg girls basketball team routed the Denver high school girls to win their first engagement of the season 54-18.

The Wartburg team scored first and were never headed, but they were unable to hit the hoop at times during the first half, and that coincided with the score standing Wartburg 16 Denver 9.

The second half was a different story with the Hughes girls hitting from all angles. Els counted four field goals and five free throws to lead the scoring with 20 points. Pries counted for 11, and Loebs followed closely with 10. Precise passing and team work, along with the better shooting, were the marked features of the second half. All three of these were lacking at times during the first two frames. Once the girls started hitting the hoop, Denver's chances were lost. Wartburg girls zoomed the last three minutes of the game to score ten points in less than three minutes.

Outstanding in the back court was the pouncing of Marlys "Molly" Rues. She constantly broke up the Denver passing attack and popped the ball into the Wartburg forward line.

Mrs. Hughes, the team's coach, substituted frequently, and all of the girls had a chance to play. Elsie Loebs, Milt Pries, Oelke, Carroll, Rues, Aliechtin, Grosskreutz, and Jacobs took part in the coaches.

Mrs. Hughes has worked together a fine squad, and we predict that they will come through the season with an excellent record.

PROGRESSING

The Fortress Executive staff, which has been working diligently in the past season, is now beginning to reap some of the harvest of pictures, a complete tentative dummy, cover prints, and more work.

Class shots, which are now being taken, will be finished and mounted along with the other snaps during Christmas Vacation.

FAMILY SECURITY

BRINGS PEACE OF MIND

By investing a few dollars each year in a Lutheran Mutual life insurance program, it is possible for you to leave your family not only what you have had time to save, but all you intended to save. It is the only plan which enables you to create an estate before you actually earn the money.

Adquate life insurance supplies the means necessary to provide your family with the same income after your death as before — to make it possible for them to go on living in the same home and give the children the care and education you would want them to have.

All your protection and income requirements can be amply taken care of with one or more policies provided by Lutheran Mutual. Ask your local representative for full details.
